Gov. Kerner Lays Cornerstone of Savings & Loan

Governor Kerner laid the cornerstone of the new Antioch Savings & Loan plaza on Lake St. and took part in dedication ceremonies of the new building last Saturday.

The governor and dignitaries of the Savings & Loan Co. left the company's present offices at 9 a.m. and were escorted to the site of the new building by an American Legion Honor Guard. Governor Kerner and Mayor Cunningham were introduced by Dr. Vermeren, president of the Savings & Loan.

The Governor, after the cornerstone-laying ceremonies, made a short speech, in which he remarked that he was happy to take part in the ceremonies, as attracting new business to Antioch, and all parts of the State, was a subject dear to his heart, and an undertaking in which he has had considerable success. He said construction of the new plaza showed faith in the continuing growth of the town.

After the ceremonies, the Governor, Mayor Cunningham, members of the village board and officers and members of the Board of Directors of the Savings & Loan were entertained at a brunch at the home of Dr. Vermeren on Winsor Drive.

July 1 is the date set for completion of the new home of the Savings & Loan. At that time, says Dr. Vermeren, there will be a festive Grand Opening to which the public will be invited.

Governor Kerner was active in the organization of the Antioch Savings & Loan Co., and is a member of the Board of Directors of that company.

Partners Buy Laundromat

Wilson's Laundromat, at the corner of 59 and Route 173, has new owners.

Emerson R. Sander, Rt. 1, Spring Grove, and John F. Dallman, Rt. 1, Antioch, took over the automatic laundry at 3 p.m. on May 20.

Mr. Sander has been presiding at the counter in the Jewel Tea Co., which features lunch meats, hot foods, salads etc. He has worked for Jewel for ten years.

Mr. Dallman has lived in Antioch seven years and has a cabinet shop.

The partners plan a Grand Opening, with a tentative date set for June 13-14 and 15. In the meantime, the laundromat will be open seven days a week, including Sunday morning, from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Name of the new establishment is the Sunshine Laundromat.

Eldred Wilson, former owner of the establishment is moving to California.

Kenosha County Kids Get Shots For Immunity

A total of 2161 children attended the immunization clinics conducted by Kenosha County the weeks of March 4, April 1 and May 6 for protection against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox.

The clinics have been conducted annually since 1929. The protection is offered to children from three months through five years of age.

Chairman of Antioch Doughnut Tag Day

Mrs. William Brook is the Antioch Chairman for the Salvation Army's annual tag day, to be held on Friday, June 7, this year.

This year is the 25th anniversary of the Army's annual tag, or Doughnut Day. Taggers are needed in all areas.

Anyone who wishes to volunteer his services may call Mrs. Brook at 395-1186.

Mrs. Gaa Wins News Auction

Mrs. Donald Gaa, 918 David St., Antioch, was winner of the Antioch News Auction last week. Mrs. Gaa bid $17.54 for the four pieces of lawn furniture.

The furniture was purchased from the Ben Franklin store and included one lounge, 2 straight chairs and a rocker.

Mrs. Gaa's winning bid was just 17c higher than that of the next bidder. How did she arrive at that figure? Well, she asked a friend, she says, to name a winning

"Traffic Condition Red" on Lake County Highways for Memorial Day Week - End

The friend suggested $17.02. "So," says Mrs. Gaa, "I thought it over and decided .54 sounded better," so that's what I bid."

Adult Promoted Beer Party At Ranch - Larson

Parents of about 80 teenagers appeared in the office of Sheriff Charles Larson Monday afternoon as an aftermath of the Friday-night raid of a drinking party at the R & S Ranch on Route 173 west of Antioch.

Sheriff Larson said Tuesday morning that he had received information that the party had been promoted by the owner of the Ranch and a young man who works for him, and that they would be prosecuted if the information is found to be true. The tickets, he said, had been circulating at the Antioch High School.

The raid on the drinking party was made about 9 p.m. Friday night. Most of the youngsters were under-age. Mr. Larson said there would be no prosecution of the few who were of age, as it would be unfair to prosecute the few while the majority of the youngsters went unpunished.

Larson told parents who appeared in his office that they should know where their children are at night. If they don't know, he said, they'd better find out.

Tickets to the party had been sold for $3.00 each, and included drinks, both beer and hard liquor.

Antioch Men Join in Civil Defense Drill

Civil Defense Director John L. Horan, accompanied by a group of Antioch men, took part in a simulated disaster in the village of McHenry recently at the request of Civil Defense Director John J. Shay of that village.

It was a well-planned and well-carried-out practice run, according to Mr. Horan, with several village groups taking part in the action.

Fire was touched off in a field of used cars to simulate an airplane crash, and with the scream of the siren the McHenry Fire Department and police went to work, stuffed gunny sacks doused with catsup played the role of some of the victims, while boys recruited from the local high school joined the ranks of patients to be aided by disaster groups. Some of the boys, presumably flung from the crashing plane, were limbed.

Workers rushed the "victims" to the local hospital, where doctors and nurses of the area co-operated effectively in caring for the "injured."

Mr. Horan worked as monitor with the McHenry Fire Dept.; Earl Horton, Antioch Police Dept., worked as monitor with the McHenry Police; George Boyd, Jimmy Quedenfeld and Robert Letke acted as patients at the "airplane crash." Between two and three hundred people took part in the disaster practice, which lasted over four hours.

Two Injured In Three-Car Accident Mon.

Lillian Kooistra of Hebron, Ill., and Edna Miller of Zion, were taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad after a three-car accident on Route 173 in front of the Four Aces at 4 p.m. Monday afternoon.

The accident occurred when Don Hartmann, owner of the Four Aces, travelling west on Route 173, made a left turn off the highway at his home. His car was struck in the rear by the car of Lillian Kooistra, also traveling west, and pushed into the path of the east-bound car of Edna Miller.

Hartmann was not injured in the accident, according to sheriff's deputies. All of the cars suffered considerable damage.

Author Wins Recognition

A short story by the wife of a former Antioch resident has been selected as a first place entry for the 1962 American Assoc. of University Women's Writing project.

Eileen Thompson Panowski, the author, is the wife of Jack B. Panowski, a former resident of Antioch. Mrs. Panowski is the sister-in-law of Mrs. Howard Gaston and Mrs. Lewis Horton, both of Antioch.

Title of the short story which was selected from 29 nation-wide entries is "The Kestrel." Mrs. Panowski has also had her first book, "The Blue-Stone Mystery," published under her maiden name of Eileen Thompson.

The book is for the 8 to 12-year-old reader. In addition to her work as an author, Mrs. Panowski is the mother of four children and is employed full-time as a radiochemistry laboratory technician at the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory. Her husband works at the Laboratory as a chemist.

Graduation This Week At A.T.H.S.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of Antioch Township High School will be held at 8 p.m. on Sunday, June 2, at the High School auditorium.

The baccalaureate address will be by the Rev. Father Edmond Hood.

The commencement program will be held at the school's athletic field, weather permitting. The Commencement speaker will be Dr. Francis Geigle, and his subject will be "Signs and Symbols."

Lake County Buys U.S. Savings Bonds

Lake County residents purchased at total of $381,977 in Series F and H United States savings bonds in April, according to Philip L. Speidel, Lake Forest, and John Meade, North Chicago, general county co-chairmen of the savings bonds committee.

Memorial Day Parade Thurs. Morning

V.F.W. Sequoit Post No. 4551 and American Legion Post No. 748 will be sponsors of Antioch's Memorial Day Parade and Ceremonies.

The parade will start assembling at the High School at 10 a.m. Thursday morning, and start down Main St. at 10:30 a.m. The route will be down Main St., then to the Village Park on Orchard and Broadway. At about 11 a.m. ceremonies at the Village Park will begin.

Master of Ceremonies will be Fred Gras, Past Commander of Sequoit Post 4551. The speaker will be the Rev. Donald Cobb of the Antioch Methodist Church, a retired Chaplain of the Armed Forces. The invocation and Benediction will be by the Rev. Father Edmond Hood of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church.

Patriotic and civic organizations have been invited to take part in Antioch's observance of Memorial Day. Any organizations that have been overlooked are asked to contact Oliver Hunt, V.F.W. Commander, or John Volk, American Legion Commander.

Lions Club Opens Pool

The Antioch Aqua Center will begin its 7th year of operation Thursday with their annual Decoration Day opening. As in past years the pool will be open to the public free of charge and many activities are planned throughout the day.

The pool has been freshly painted again this year and other improvements are scheduled for later in the summer. James Corrigan will again serve as pool manager and Charlotte Queen will head the Swimming lesson program.

The Antioch Lions Club, sponsors of the Aqua Center, has played a treasure hunt for the children on opening day. Thousands of coins and other prizes will be tossed in the pool at various intervals during the day and the kids will be able to dive for them. Any thing they find they get to keep.

As an added boost for the opening day festivities, the Lions Club has donated free candy bars to all children of grade school age or younger. The program will start at 1 p.m.

State and local police will also be out in force to deter the careless or reckless driver as holiday crowds throng the highways.

Accident research proves that most accidents occur during the first six hours and the last twelve hours of holiday periods. Probably this is the time of the heaviest traffic load, when people are traveling to their destination for the long week-end or returning home, tired and impatient to get there.

E. G. Landen, executive director of the Lake County Safety Commission, pointed out some safety factors to be observed by motorists hauling boats or trailers: (1) Secure hitch; (2) safety chains; (3) Drive at reduced speed; (4) Be sure to use adequate lighting on your trailer. Trailers must have at least one red light and two red reflectors. Loads projecting four feet beyond the trailer must display a flag by day and a red light at night.

For drivers, Landen had the following reminders: (1) Limit distance of driving during weekend; (2) Allow time for emergencies and rest; (3) Leave early; (4) Return early and (5) Drive for two yourself and "the other guy."

Antioch Artists Open Exhibit Memorial Day

Beginning Tuesday, June 4, artists of the Antioch area are invited to exhibit paintings as guests of the Antioch Art Guild. Those desiring information may call 395-1903 or 395-0453.

The gallery space for the exhibits was made available to the Guild through the courtesy of the State Bank of Antioch.

New officers of the Art Guild are Rosalie Lyons, president; Ellen McDowell, vice president; Lorraine Lemke, treasurer and Claire Gilday, secretary.

Don't Become A Statistic

A long holiday week-end is coming up — Memorial Day. The day that is dedicated to the memory of our war dead may well become a memorial to more hundreds who will die on the highways celebrating the holiday.

Holiday after holiday, and year after year, the warnings are repeated, and year after year the death toll rises. No one can ever believe that he will be the one to die.

For those who do believe it, and want to live, a few simple rules can almost guarantee your surviving the week-end intact.

1. Don't plan a long trip for the holiday week-end. Stay off the highways all you can.

2. Don't be lulled into a sense of false security because you're driving close to home. Most accidents occur in the vicinity—a driver is accustomed to: Around that familiar corner, beyond that familiar hill, may be a reckless driver who will block your path. Drive as though you expected him to be there.

3. Drive as though every other driver on the road were an absent-minded professor, a hopeless moron, or a drunk. Sooner or later you'll find yourself in close proximity to one who is.

4. Keep your speed and your temper down, your patience at high tide, and your car under control.

Good luck, We hope you'll still be with us next week.

Danger: Kids At Play

Most of our local schools will close their doors for the summer within the next week. Hundreds of children will be released from the daily routine of school hours to stream joyously out to play.

Spirits are high and a little reckless as the young ones revel in their renewed freedom. Traffic rules, and safety regulations flee the youngsters' memory as quickly as yesterday's arithmetic test.

These first couple of weeks of freedom, before the youngsters settle down to normal summer routines are the most dangerous. Drivers must be more alert than usual to watch out for the unpredictable movements of children at play. Whether or not he has the right of way, no motorist wants to hit a child.

Keep in mind that children will be on the streets throughout the day now, not just after school hours. Slow down when you see a group of children at play, even though they seem safely out of the way of your car. And give wide berth to the biking youngster, even if it means coming to a halt.

Do your friends and neighbors give you heart trouble? Would you live longer if you took up frequent solitary fishing expeditions instead of activities in which you come in contact with people? These are some of the intriguing questions raised by the results of recent studies made at the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens.

Heart disease has increased ten-fold in animals in the Zoo in the last eight years. And the only changes in their environment has been a steady increase in the number of animals the Zoo harbors.

This has led Dr. Herbert L. Ratcliffe, professor of pathology at a Pennsylvania University, to the conclusion that the rise in heart disease may be due to growing tensions in the animals due to more continuous association with other animals. He thinks it may be a clue to the growing incidence of heart disease in men. Denser population, more association and competition with people in business, produce tensions that injure man's most important muscle.

Now, if the man of the house wants to go on a fishing trip by himself, how can he resist? How can he insist that he take her out dancing in the evening? That they have friends over for a sociable game of cards? He can bitterly accuse her of trying to lead him to an early death from heart disease, and justify all his anti-social tendencies with the claim that it's good for his health.

What's even worse, he can refuse to give her money to go shopping and virtuously claim that he's safeguarding her health by refusing to let her rub elbows with all those tension-provoking human animals.

Doctors now having decided that exercise is the best preventive of heart disease, too much association with people and rich food are contributing factors, what happens to all our fun? The healthy life, it seems, is the solitary, hard-working life, with a spare diet. No more chatty afternoon luncheons, no more cocktail parties, scrub that floor, mow that lawn, and live long and monotonously.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The Lake County Republican Federation got off to a flying start in its inaugural luncheon political forum at the Swedish-Glenn Club last week where Iowa Senator Jack Miller was the headliner.

More than 300 people, including most of the Republican office holders in the area, turned out for the event and the guest list included most of the top business and industrial names in the county.

The message delivered by Sen. Miller was educational, if not particularly exciting. There must be something in the Washington atmosphere that makes Senators and Congressmen believe that the general public can understand talk about billions and billions of dollars when they themselves seem to take no real notice of the import of the figures.

Despite Sen. Miller's eloquence and wealth of material on the tax situation and the economic dangers lurking just around the next bend, there was a dreamlike quality to the speech and an unmistakable feeling that this same warning has been sounded periodically since 1932 with only the figures different.

While the audience was attentive and seemed impressed with the message from Sen. Miller it seemed that most people were more concerned with the message County Treasurer Karl Berning will be delivering to them some day soon.

Somehow the amount the individual is going to be tapped on his personal property and real estate tax seemed more real and certainly more personal than the billions discussed by the distinguished solon from the Tall Corn State.

And speaking of County Treasurer Karl Berning, you have to admire the man's persistence.

Faced at the present time with the embarrassment of having to revise his estimate on the tax bill mailing date he proceeds to announce that next year the bills will be in the mail on May 1.

This in the face of the quadrennial re-assessment of all taxable property in the county, which normally takes the township assessors considerably longer than the normal assessing.

It looks as though the western part of the county is being remembered by the county board after all insofar as an auxiliary county building is concerned.

Although as one cynic put it, "One swallow does not a tipple make, nor a survey and study a building."

Does anything annoy you quite as much as cruising up and down a public parking lot and seeing scores of parking spaces wasted by improper and inconsiderate parkers?

Let's you forget, there is an election coming up next week, if you can call a one-man race an election.

On Monday Democrats and Republicans will join hands carefully and a little warily to elect Waukegan Atty. Glenn K. Seidenfeld as Judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit.

This election should please Judge Phil Yager more than a little since it takes him off the "junior judge" seat.

There are also several other elections coming up of interest to a great many people in Lake County.

If you have seen some stickers with the legend "I'm a Rooster Booster" you can be assured that Bernard (Benny the Rooster) Puchalski has been around campaigning for re-election as business representative of

Among the vibrant colored tulips, the delicately scented lilacs and the cascading bridal wreath, there is evidence of the gentle blushing bloom of LOVE. Ah yes! The lane strollers, hand holders and porch sitters are turning their eyes from the star studded skies to the engaging sparkle of diamonds.

Quiet whispers of endearing terms now begin to include such phrases as "ring bearer," "bride-party," "reception" and "honeymoon." As eternal as Spring herself, love will continue to be the hope for the future and the happiness of the world.

THE LATEST REPORT: One of the wedding bells that will be heard this summer will be tolling for the fellow who "outfits" all the grooms, Stan Totten and his lively fiancée, Lorraine Folbrink. . . . saw a peculiar sight the other day in a car all bedecked with the proverbial ribbons and "Just Married" signs. Usually in the same area you'll find Jim Malmquist, who is seeking re-election as business agent for the Electrical Workers Local.

Both candidates are hoping for an upturn in building in the county since their opposition seems to be blaming them for the inertia being shown in new construction in this area.

Like elected officials at the national level their positions are threatened by economic factors over they have no control.

THE LAST DROP: Ralph and Jean Gressens packed their longies and took off for Cable, Wis. to "get away from it all" for a short while.

Otto Hanke had the best line this week, for on the end of it was a 2½ lb. walleye. He hooked into it out at John's River Inn one night last week and went back the next night to reel in a 2 lb. mate to the first one. . . . a real "traffic stopper" was Doc Vormoren's auto last Saturday . . . the beer barrel wasn't the only thing they rolled out at that teen-age party last Saturday. Parents were summoned to pick up their offspring at the Fox Lake station, and we understand it was about 3 a.m. before all parents were contacted. Letters to the Editor

May 24, 1963 Mr. Howard Shepard Antioch News Antioch, Illinois Dear Sir:

We of the Antioch Art Guild have been aware for some time that many fellow Antiochians are not aware that there are two separate Fine Arts groups in Antioch: namely the Palette, Masque and Lyre, and the Antioch Art Guild (formerly the Brush and Palette Club). Probably the switch in names of our club helped to cause the confusion. However, we have had the pleasure of working with the Palette, Masque and Lyre on community endeavors, including the Centennial Celebration and the Fine Arts Festival. On these occasions we noted that many presumed we were affiliated with the P. M. & L. group. The P. M. & L. is a fine enterprising group with which we hope to continue to work hand in hand to promote appreciation of Art (which is one of our main functions as a club).

However, we have always wished to keep our separate identity as an art club. We are writing this letter after having noticed the fluff in Annie Mae's column crediting the P. M. & L. with the opening of the Art Gallery at the old Gibbs & Jenson store.

For the correct information concerning this gallery please read the separate notice in this week's paper.

Sincerely, Antioch Art Guild

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

My firm belief in home rule and in the need for constitutional tax reform has resulted in my endorsement of a proposal to allow classification of real and personal property for tax purposes.

I am convinced that adoption of this proposal by the General Assembly and the people of Illinois would mark another milestone on our route to fiscal sanity and responsibility.

Fairness and added revenues constitute the promise of this proposal, already before our legislators. In my second budget address to the General Assembly last week, I pointed out that:

"This resolution provides for a legal classification of property. Such classification permits the grouping by kind or characteristics of similar properties for evaluation on a basis other than full value."

"This resolution empowers the General Assembly to abolish any or all classes of tangible or intangible personal property. This in effect will give you the right to abolish the personal property tax on household goods and personal effects. I recommend that this desirable goal be brought about."

In effect, this constitutional change would bring order out of what is now chaos and unfairness. Moreover, it strengthens local government by giving it needed financial tools, thus reducing the revenue strain on the state.

By administrative and legislative action, this administration already has shown how to realize maximum income from existing tax laws. Because we have snared the tax cheaters and brought equity to our sales and use tax laws, $170 million more will be realized in the forthcoming two-year fiscal period. This program constitutes the bulwark of our budget, which asks for no new or increased taxes.

This same kind of equity and order can and must come to the property tax programs of our local governmental units. Without such action, Illinois is faced with a catch-as-catch-can kind of financing in the future,

Silence cannot be misquoted.

USED TO SAY!

By the Rev. Fr. Edmond E. Hood

Always remember that it is far easier to mean right than it is to do right.

It is always easier to tell others what they ought to do than it is to tell yourself what you must do.

The charity that begins at home and stays there generally dies of heart failure.

The man who has no business of his own to attend to, always goes to bed tired.

Survey County For Junior College Need

The Chicago management consultant firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton, Inc., has been selected to survey Lake County's resources to determine if a junior college is needed and feasible.

The selection was announced today by Roy E. Jones, president of the North Shore Gas Co. and chairman of the Lake County Community College Association.

The survey will cover five specific areas. They include:

1. Requirements of the area for a community junior college which includes probable enrollment.
2. Recommendation of a general structure for a community junior college program.
3. General requirements of the college for facilities which will include sites and acreage.
4. Probable cost and means of financing.
5. A plan of action to be followed.

The association, comprised of officials from the chambers of commerce and high school superintendents in eight high school districts has a fund of about $15,000 to conduct the survey and take care of other expenses.

The Chicago firm estimates that the cost of the feasibility survey will run from $15,250 to $18,250.

It was pointed out, however, that if the four high school districts not now supporting the study should decide to participate, the cost of the study would increase by $750 for each district, making a total cost of $19,250 if they all participate.

The report of the survey, when concluded, will be forwarded to the state Department of Public Instruction. The report will be analyzed and returned to Dr. W. C. Petty with the department's recommendations.

The report is expected to be finalized within three to four months.

Genius is the ability to avoid work by doing something right the first time it has to be done.—Walnut Leader.

The Busiest Parents in Town

Parents who are in a dither over the graduation of a son or daughter, list to the tale of the Charles Geists and relax in the comparative peace of your own home.

Lynne Geist

Les Geist

The Geists have not one, not two, but three, offspring graduating from various schools within the next week.

The first graduation ceremonies the Geists will attend will be those of their daughter, Lynne, on Thursday, May 30, at St. Peter's elementary school. She will attend Antioch High next fall.

Next on the list is their son, Leslie, who will be in the Antioch High graduating class on June 3. He will enter Western Illinois University at Macomb in September, where he plans to major in accounting.

The third graduate is their daughter, Mary Lou. Mary Lou will receive her BA degree from Mundelein College in Chicago, on June 5. Miss Geist plans to teach high school starting next fall.

The Geists are relieved that the powers-that-be didn't slate two of the graduations for the same night. They live at Rt. 1, Antioch.

Collections Lag In Easter Seal Drive

A final effort to reach the 1963 Campaign goal of the Lake County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults is being made through the use of reminder notices to residents of Lake County who have not contributed to the drive, it was announced today by Lou Durkin, Easter Seal Campaign Chairman.

Collections to date from all sources $14,323.18 while the campaign goal is $21,665, Durkin reported.

"We are confident that many people who intended to send a contribution have failed to do so for one reason or another and we hope the reminder cards will produce enough to enable us to meet our goal and continue the expansion of the Easter Seal Treatment Center in Waukegan," Durkin asserted.

There was a time when heaven protected the working girl. Now it takes a union, a wage-hour law, unemployment compensation, social security, health insurance and a pension plan.—St. Anne Record.

VALUABLE EXHIBIT OF WOODCARVING AT STATE FAIR

A $100,000 exhibit of woodcarving entitled "The Working World Masterpiece" will be shown at the 1963 Illinois State Fair. The woodcarving depicts 50 scenes from real life, representing small towns and villages in Europe. Carved by hand with pocket knives, the exhibit has 251 characters and more than 30,000 moving parts. Touring for the past 18 years, the exhibit made its first appearance at the Chicago World's Fair. Its appearance here will be the third trip to the United States.

Eight years of labor by three disabled soldiers were required to complete the exhibit. Some 1,143 pounds of carved wood are contained in the display. Included in the scenes are a blacksmith shop,

Whats

Cookin'?

By Harry H. Stern

A thought for Memorial Day

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY IS THE WILL AND THE ABILITY TO PRESERVE IT FROM DESTRUCTION.

FOR THE BIRDS — this seems to be the bird year, out here on the Point. In one day we were visited by two pairs of Scarlet Tanagers, the Baltimore Orioles, Cardinals, the very rare (in these parts) Yellow-Headed Blackbird, plus all the regulars, like the Robins, Wrens, Sparrows, Red-winged blackbirds, Grackles, Blue Jays, Purple Martins and Swallows, as well as four "brands" of Woodpeckers. They included the Red-head, Downey, Pileated (first time I saw one in these parts) and the Flicker, which is fairly numerous. No girls, not Swensons, no Kingbirds, and I saw what looked like a pair of King Birds in the meadow across from Cervenka's on Grass Lake Road.

My sister and I are not exactly lonely out here. We have each other to talk to, but we need another woman to talk about.

Hey, Annie honey, did you see that Cendid Camera program a little while ago, where they asked these "chicks" about the various baseball plays, and the dilly answers they gave? The one that won the Doozey Award was the Babe, who, when asked, do you know who or what is the clean-up man, answered with a straight face, Yeah! That's the empire. He's got a whisk broom and he cleans up that thing by the batter.

Bill Brook and Dick Kaye have got themselves each a Labrador Retriever pup—they're little sisters, and from real classy stock. Now they're in the process of training 'em. You've got our sympathy, Mrs. Brook.

Middle age is when you're grounded for days after flying high one night.

Roy Kufalk hasn't made the scene for a week or more, and the vine-grape has it he's up in Hayward area matching wits with the you-know-whats. Hint: they've got fins and scales and begin to sink to high heaven after a couple of days.

There are two good dates for fishing—the day before you go and the day after you return.

Heinie Ellis, Pop Hemm and Onie Di'Lab brought home over one hundred stripers from a week-end jaunt up to the Rock River. They averaged about a pound a piece. Not bad, (they weren't supposed to be). Heinie hooked something big, but it got away without revealing its identity. Heinie, old tires don't count.

Bruce Muench was out on the Chain Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, working on the comprehensive survey. Details will come later, but this can be told now. The early bluegills are on the spawning beds and more are following suit. Find the beds and you'll get some.

Vic Paulus, that dapper floorwalker at Sorenson's Bait & Bull Foundry is walking around like a lost sheep—he's got no place to play cards—they closed down to polish up the place. That object in Vic's hand is a deck of cards. Watch out for him—he's desperate.

Sequoits Take Second In Conference Meet

Dione Rathbone took first place in the 1/2 mile Saturday at the Northwest Suburban Conference Track Meet and sparked the Sequoit thin-clads to second place in the conference. The meet was held at Elia-Vernon High School in Lake Zurich.

Lake Forest took the conference honors, piling up 47 points to 36 for the Sequoits. Grayslake finished in 3rd followed by Elia-Vernon, Wauconda, Grant, Round Lake and Warren.

Rathbone was the only Antioch trackster to finish in first place but the Sequoits ran second in 4 events.

The Lake Forest relay team avenged an earlier loss by defeating the Sequoits with a time of 3:32.9. Antioch had to settle for second place in the event ahead of Grant, Elia-Vernon and Grayslake.

Don Richter accounted for the only third place finish for the Sequoits, running behind Elia-Vernon and Round Lake in the 220 yard run. Winning time for the event was 22.6 seconds.

Other Antioch boys who placed in the meet were Shenk, 2nd in the high jump; Dave White, 2nd in the pole vault, and the 1/2 mile relay team who also finished in second. Fourth place finishes went to Tom Morgan in the 100 yard dash, Paul Clifton in the broad jump, Rick Fowles in the 440 yard run and Rich Fitch in the 100 yard hurdles.

Lon Ipsen, Bruce Dalgaard, Ron Richter and Tom Tahtlinger came through for one point each with fifth place finishes.

BOATING WITH BOWMAN

BOATMEN INCREASE CATCHES WITH LIVE BAIT TANKS

By Hank Bowman (Courtesy Sequoit Harbor)

Dead bait fish make for dead fishing. All game fish know this and so do most avid anglers. If you don't believe it, then stick to a plastic pail or a tin can, but honest, though fish are considered near sighted as all get out, they do recognize movement and prefer their meals still kicking.

Jim Saunders, a bait and tackle man of my acquaintance has this to say on the subject of keeping live bait.

Jim's first rule is to choose a tank with smooth sides so the bait don't chase themselves to death and knock off their scales.

"Get your bait tank full of loose scales," Jim said, "and half the fish will die, 'cause the scales will clog their gills and they'll smother."

Next, select a tank large enough for the quantity of live bait you want to carry.

"Overcrowd them and they suffocate and beat one another to death just like chickens," Jim explained.

To keep bait lively they must have plenty of air. Give them too much and they keel over like deep sea divers with the bonds.

There are several ways to give the bait well the necessary "circulation." One is to fit the tank with a motor-powered circulator, another is with some form of inlet and outlet plumbing or with tanks intended to float partially or be wholly submerged.

If you use a close re-circulating type container you should be careful to fill it with water about the same temperature as that in which the live bait were kept.

The least complicated approach to a live bait well would seem to be to buy a prefab outfit made by a bait tank specialist. Jim showed me a number of brochures featuring different style tanks ranging from under $25 to well over $100.

Most of the power driven tanks draw about 5 to 6 amps on a 12-volt hook-up and provide just the right amount of air mixture plus a gentle circulating action that does not tire or beat the fish but keeps them well exercised and full of zip.

Some tanks are designed to hang on transoms and can be lowered into the water when the boat is anchored or drifting. Others are intended for installation under seats or in the bilge and call for inlet and outlet tubes.

For those who love to dance, the Go-Go Room is open nightly. There is never a cover nor minimum charge in the Go-Go Room which is adjacent to the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House.

We even absorb the excise tax in the Go-Go Room.

And if you are interested in joining a private golf club, the George Diamond Country Club has a few memberships still available. Call 365-0999 or visit our clubhouse and see for yourself. Among the facilities available to country club members—in addition to the 18-hole championship course that is one of the Midwest's finest—are an outdoor swimming pool and sun deck, tennis courts, horseback riding trails, a sauna bath in our comfortable locker rooms, and private dining rooms.

A spring-fed private lake will soon be completed and stocked with trout for our members who love to fish.

Our Diamond acres are dedicated to good fun, good food and good fellowship. I'm looking forward to serving you.

Inside Antioch High

By Marilyn Grass
Sunday and Monday will be important days for the 140 members of the 1963 graduating class. On Sunday the Baccalaureate program will be held in the auditorium at 8 p.m. Rev. Edmund Hood of the St. Ignace Episcopal Church will deliver the Baccalaureate address. Rev. Harold Nelson of St. Mark's Lutheran Church will give the Invocation and Benediction.
Monday at 8 on the athletic field, the Commencement program will begin. Dr.
Geigle of Northern Illinois University will give the main speech, "Signs and Symbols."
Rev. Virgil Smith of the Lake Villa Methodist Church will give the invocation.

This year 27 students, nearly 20% of the class, are graduating with honors.
Janet Polley is Valedictorian, and Joan Stepensko is Salutatorian.

Several Juniors are planning to study at universities during the summer. Sue Bloom, Jo Ann Bolton, and Suraya Brook will attend
Washington University in St.
Louis from June 24 to July 27. Through seminars, lectures, and field trips, they will make a study of American freedom. Karen Keck, another Junior, plans to study Spanish at the University of Mexico in Mexico City.
During her two weeks there she will live with a Mexican family.

The golf team had another successful season this spring.
For the second straight year they won the conference championship, and they finished the season with a 10-4 overall record, even better than last year's! Also, two Antioch boys, Les Miller and John Lear, placed first and second for individual conference golf honors.

The Antioch track squad was rated among the top in both the conference and the county. They sent two events, the mile relay team and 880 yard runner Dione Rathbone, to the state meet, and they broke many school records.

The baseball team did slightly better than some people had expected. They won another game for their second win of the year, and finished the season in a tie for last place.
